

#3 Key to Business Survival: Spirituality and Ethics

In preparation for the July 1, 2020 EoC call, you may want to reflect on your company's Vision and Values and current practices. Answer each of these questions on a scale of 1 ("Weakness") to 5 ("Core Strength"). If you have a leadership team, have them take this survey as well:

	Your Score	Statement
1		Our company's Vision and Values address, encompass and support the personal and professional development of our employees.
2		Our company's Vision and Values address, encompass and support the spiritual and ethical development of our employees.
3		Our company utilizes the experience of differences among genders, races, social classes, and similar social dimensions as an opportunity to experience growth.
4		Our company fosters two-way communication to address difficulties within the business.
5		Our company views any internal difficulties as opportunities for personal, relational and organizational growth.
6		Our products and services take into consideration our customers' operating environment and anticipates potential unintended consequences for customers.
7		Our internal stakeholders seek to practice the Golden Rule.
8		In the area of "Spirituality and Ethics" as described in the EoC "Guidelines", I rate our company as a ____ (1 = "unaware" to 5="consistently living them").

Contact Jon Hokama [jon@jonhokama.net] for a complementary analysis and consultation.